TCI PARTNERS WITH WRIGHT EXPRESS TO INTRODUCE FUEL CARD
New Fuel Card Helps Fleets Administer Fueling Policies

DUNCAN, S.C. – June 28, 2005 – TCI Tire Centers Commercial Division and Wright Express Corporation (NYSE:WXS) announced jointly today the introduction of a new branded fleet fuel card for TCI customers requiring a one-card fueling solution.

Wright Express, a leading provider of fleet management services, has developed the branded fleet card that TCI Tire Centers Commercial Division now offers to local-billed customer fleets. The new card, which also contains the Wright Express logo, allows TCI to offer the benefits and features of a Wright Express fleet card program at a reduced cost with limited administration.

“The new fuel card will simplify the administrative work for our heavy truck fleet customers who use multiple fueling cards,” said Randy Gaetz, vice president of sales and marketing, TCI Tire Centers Commercial Division. “These customers currently manage multiple invoices and reports each month. The new TCI card will consolidate fuel purchases, minimize reporting and enable our local-billed truck fleet customers to establish and enforce fueling policies. These customers will also have access to the Daily Best Fuel Price Web Site, which allows fleets to immediately identify the lowest diesel fuel price of the day in their markets.”

The Wright Express Affinity Card program allows service marketers to offer a branded fleet fueling card to increase sales, build brand awareness and establish customer loyalty. “The power of the Wright Express Affinity Program and the TCI brand offer opportunities for growth,” said Gary Robbins, vice president, general manager, partner acquisition, Wright Express.

The fuel card is accepted at more than 180,000 fuel and service locations. Customers receive detailed statements and reporting options.
